Dear Dr. Cordain,

Almost exactly two years ago we exchanged some letters. I then told you about my manuscript of a monograph describing my and others results regarding sodium and cations and their roles in cancer etiology and prevention. This manuscript is not yet published and I enclose a copy of it for your scrutiny and information.

I would appreciate comments, suggestions for changes, additions, deletions, etc. If you have suggestions for suitable publishers I would certainly appreciate those too. Note that only the first chapter is so far professionally edited. The remaining chapters will be edited after a decision on publisher is made.

With my best regards,

Yours sincerely,
